

Weekly Checkup

Why the Process of Policymaking Matters

CHRISTOPHER HOLT | MAY 27, 2022

This week is my last at the American Action Forum (AAF), and thus, this is my last Weekly Checkup—though certainly not the last Weekly Checkup. After nearly a decade at AAF, a full 16 years working in and around health policy in D.C., and over four years writing the Weekly Checkup, this week's column is an opportunity for me to reflect on the trajectory of health policy, and policymaking more broadly. In short, I see a concerning trend toward seeking policy wins at all costs.
